

Free Lowercase Letters Template for Transparencies

Thank you for downloading this free template to create lowercase letters for transparencies.

You can see how we used a similar idea for a light table activity on this post:

Two options for using these letters:

1. You can use the first set of lowercase letters (oriented correctly) and select the “Mirror Print” option on your printer settings and print directly on transparencies. Then cut each letter out in a rectangular card and complete the activity as described in the blog post above.
2. You can print the second mirrored set of letters on regular paper. Then, place the paper under transparency paper and trace the letters. When you then flip over the transparencies on a light table, your child can trace over the letters with correct orientation (and without rubbing ink off).

If you have other tips and ideas, I'd love to hear them! Please email me or comment on the blog post (from the link above).
